Souper Bowl for Hunger Breaks Records!

Superbowl weekend started off breaking records here in Affton! For the fourth year in a row, the students at Bayless High School treated guests to tasty, homemade soups and chili, live music, and a wide selection of hand-painted bowls in their annual "Souper Bowl for Hunger" event.

This year, more than 70 bowls were on display, along with a selection of silent auction baskets. BHS students played the piano, while culinary students dished up their best. Valentine making and kids crafts rounded out the evening.

The evening raised more than $3,000, which the BHS students will use to purchase food and personal care items for the ACFP after they return from spring break.

Thank you to teachers Patti Mudd and Melinda Brown for leading the charge, and to the Bayless School Administration for their support of this event. Truly, the Souper Bowl for Hunger proves that together, we can make a difference!

Local Shop Plants Some Hope

Sappington Garden Shop, located near the intersection of Gravois and S. Lindbergh, knows what a difference plants can make. Last spring, they donated 60 tomato plants to the ACFP to share with families in need.

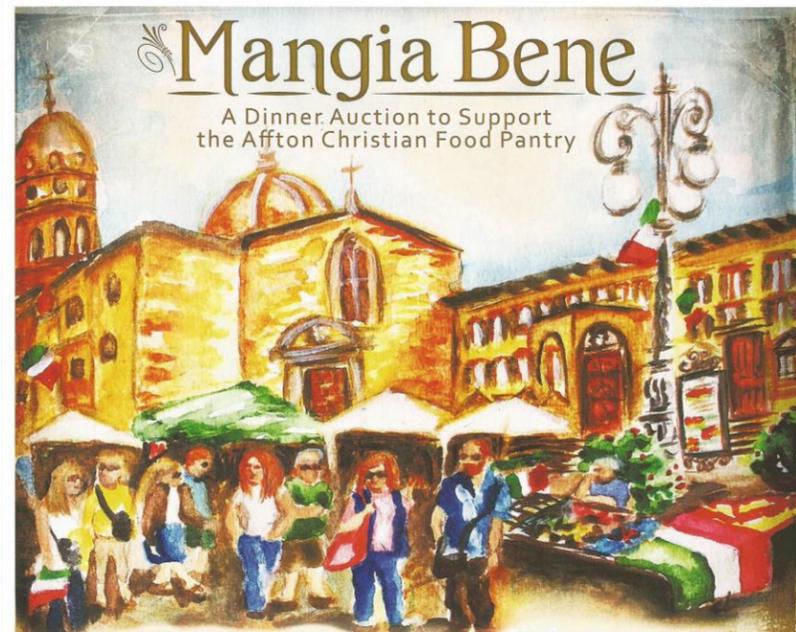

The program was an overwhelming success! Many families commented that growing their own fresh produce gave them a new sense of accomplishment. One woman shared that she was proud of the tomatoes she and her son grew, and was thrilled when they yielded enough to share with an elderly neighbor.

The ACFP seeks to provide our families with hope and kindness, along with food and nourishment. Thank you, Sappington Garden Shop and ACFP volunteer Nita Steck (who organized this donation), for helping us plant some hope here in Affton!

Warm and Toasty

A big thank you to our friends who kept our clients warm and toasty this winter! Regina Randall at Pennies in Your Pocket, St. Simon the Apostle Catholic Church, and Warner's Warm-ups all donated coats for our families. We offered the coats to all families in our program. Folks were able to replace worn out, or outgrown, coats with new or like-new versions! They were much appreciated this winter, as the temps dipped down below freezing over and over!

Kohl's Cares for ACFP Kids

For more than a year now, Gina Javaux and her crew of hard-working Kohl's employees have gathered to fill the Brown Bags for our school-aged kids.

These fun folks are always willing to volunteer to fill 100 bags at a time...and each time, through Kohl's corporate giving program, the ACFP also receives a $500 grant.

Our partnership with Gina and the Kohl's crew ensures that no child will go hungry during school breaks! Thank you, Kohl's!

A Merrier Christmas

This December, our clients were treated to a new experience at the ACFP: the chance to "shop" in our Christmas Boutique.

Led by board member Suzanne Baybo (Affton Presbyterian), teams of volunteers organized hundreds of donations, and set up "shop" in a room down the hall from the food pantry.

Clients and their children were able to shop in the pantry for gifts for family members. Volunteers assisted kids with choosing gifts and wrapping them, sometimes needing to remind the younger ones to wait until Christmas to give them out!

After receiving new socks and a package of undershirts, one client replied, in tears, that this was the best Christmas gift ever!

Suzanne is planning to head up a Christmas Boutique again this coming December. If you'd like to donate or help out, please contact her at (636) 253-8030.
